this.

THE COURT: Let me tell you, we're talking those two boxes, two and a half boxes Mr. Taylor, okay. If we come back here next Friday and I hear that, well, here's the two and a half, but I wanted twenty-five and a half.

MR. TAYLOR: No, your Honor. Even the two and a half boxes I'm going to take specific documents out of there.

THE COURT: Can that be done Lieutenant?

THE WITNESS: I'd have to talk that over with my superiors, because I do not make the legal policy.

THE COURT: Well, you know, I can't order Rhode Island authorities to do anything, but I would strongly urge you. If we're going to put some type of finality into this segment, of this case, those boxes he put aside yesterday, if he could go through those within a week, that will resolve this entire issue here. Okay. There's no question, in my mind, that he had access to his material. No one is criticizing Rhode Island authorities whatsoever. My problem is he needs to put something into evidence here. He's got to have the document with him and if I don't allow that I'm denying this man his rights. So next Friday, those two and a half -- So what I would
